Description

Strand Bookstore carries over 2.5 million used, new, and rare books, covering topics as far-ranging as occult to philosophy to finance. The store also offers an ever-changing array of literary gifts and goods from Moleskines to coffee mugs, and everything in-between.

Strand's employees are not only knowledgeable about books but they're also passionate about them. Not only can they help you find a book, they can also recommend something you might love if you give them a quick description of your literary tastes. With our famous dollar carts outside you can always find a gem but that doesn't mean there's not a hidden treasure inside the store, like a beautiful Rabelais for $15.

Strand is developing a service to sell text books. Please check Strand's website for updates.

HAVE STRAND BOOKSTORE'S OPERATIONS AND SERVICES BEEN SUSPENDED DUE TO COVID-19? As of June 22nd, NYC's Strand Bookstore's main location at 828 Broadway will reopen with certain restrictions (e.g., limiting capacity to 50%, requiring face masks and social distancing, socially distanced discount carts, gloves and masks available upon request, etc.). All other Strand locations and kiosks will remain temporarily closed. For updates to Strand Bookstore's response to COVID-19, please visit "Updated Store Operations."
